South Africa Science Week 2017

4 – 8 December 2017

Pretoria and Cape Town

Are you interested in exploring opportunities for cooperation in education, research, innovation or business development? Do you relate to areas like ocean space, blue economy and sustainable use of the ocean? Then South Africa is the place to be early December 2017.

- Get new ideas for cooperation and business
- Network with potential partners
- Create new knowledge platforms

Ocean space and the blue economy is a strategic priority for both South Africa and Norway, providing a fertile basis for joint research, innovation, business and job creation. South Africa is an economic powerhouse with a well-developed infrastructure and persistent growth, and an effective gateway into other markets on the African continent.

South Africa – Norway Science Week 2017 consists of different events:

- SANCOOP Concluding Conference, December 4-5 (Pretoria – only for invited participants)
- Main Science Week event:
Green Maritime – Sustainable Use of the Ocean, December 6 (Pretoria)
- Antarctica Seminar, December 5 (Cape Town)
- The annual DST (Dept. of Science and Technology) Science Forum South Africa 2017, December 7-8 (Pretoria), with Team Norway exhibition stand www.sfsa.co.za

Please save the dates. More information will come on the website www.teamnorway.co.za by mid-September.

South Africa - Norway Science Week 2017 is organised by Team Norway – The Norwegian Research Council, Norwegian Centre for International Cooperation in Education, Innovation Norway and the Norwegian Embassy in Pretoria, in close cooperation with long-standing partners in South Africa.
