

Dr Sally Stansfield

Dr Sally Stansfield is a managing director in the Social Impact service line of Deloitte Consulting LLP, focusing on global health issues, and Chief Advisor at the Gates Foundation. She is a globally recognised leader in public health and development and brings more than 30 years of expertise in health systems strengthening, with a focus on health information, communication, and technology; data maximization; metrics for evaluation; and information technology governance. Sally also has extensive experience working with global health partners.